1892, though large, was exceeded in 1890, but, the shipments of value, 66,475 tons, surpasses previous totals. The same may be said of all other goods, and the aggregate of the exports of white and brown sugar exceeded the totals of the preceding year, but do not call for special notice, the figures for 1892 being about the same as the figures for 1891. The exports of tea, however, show a considerable increase, and, despite complaints of unsatisfactory quality, continue to advance. The export of all from North China is the largest on record, and amounts to 1,000,000 tons. In 1892, the total was 72,100 tons. In the table of exports a highly creditable gain is noticeable against camellia, firecrackers, hair, soap, and tobacco.

5.—Re-exports.—The re-exports to foreign countries, chiefly Japan and Russian Manchuria, show an increase in value over the total re-exports of 1891 of 1,579,000.

6.—Shipping.—The shipping trade was active and value of freight considerable, especially in the carrying trade. Of vessels employed in the foreign trade, the total entries were 4,659 of 3,864,000 tons, or an increase of 241 entries, aggregating 221,000 tons, over the figures for 1891. In the carrying trade, the entries amounted to 14,770 of 10,895,000 tons, or a little less than for the preceding year, as several Chinese steamers ceased running in consequence of the war.

7.—Treasure.—The net shipment of gold bars attained the high total of 11,724,000 (2,044,025) lb, or exceeded the export of 1891 by 11,724,000 (2,044,025) lb. The importation of silver bullion and coins was 11,724,000 (2,044,025) lb, or exceeded the export of 1891 by 11,724,000 (2,044,025) lb.

8.—Value.—The following statement of the estimated value of foreign imports and exports, exclusive of bullion, is calculated in the same way as in the report for 1891—

	1891.	1892.
Net imports, market value	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Net imports, value of goods	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Net imports, value of bullion	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Net imports, value of goods and bullion	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Net exports, market value	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
Net exports, value of goods	1,000,000,000	1,000,000,000
